Course Learning Objectives
1. Begin to understand the relationship between differentials and integrals.
2. Come to understand the Riemann integral and how it relates to notions of size.
3. Learn the techniques and methodology of Riemannian integration.
4. Practice, memorize, and be able to apply methods of integration to greater problems.
5. Learn methods for understanding size and volume.
6. Learn about integration for dimensions two and three.
7. Become familiar with the existence of differential equations and some of their basic properties.
8. Study the properties of sequences and series.

Classroom Policies
- The Final has the weight of two exams and it must be taken at the scheduled time and place, so there are ultimately 5 exam grades in total.
- Your single lowest test grade will be dropped at the end of the semester when grades are computed (remember the final counts twice).
- This course’s homework is to be physically submitted in class at the beginning of class on the day it is due.
- Class participation is mandatory and important when it comes to fostering an environment for all to learn.
- If you come late to class, it is your responsibility to inform me of such at the end of class.
- No electronic devices are allowed in class. This includes cell phones, iPads, calculators, and laptops.
- There are no make-up exams, if you have a valid reason for missing an exam that exam will simply not exist in the calculation of your final grade (except for the Final Exam, come see me ASAP).
- In case of extreme weather or emergency cancellations call CCSU or (860) 832-3333 for information.
- The Final Exam is cumulative and will take place on Tuesday, December 8, 2021 at 17:30.
- If you happen to have a medical emergency or you require special dispensation, please contact me immediately or come see me or make an appointment (don’t just disappear or hide).
- There is no extra-credit (please don’t ask).
- Every student’s grade must and will be calculated in the exact same way, as listed in the distribution above.
- Any academic dishonesty (e.g. cheating, plagiarizing, or fraud) will result in an immediate failure.
Addendums

- The last day to withdraw from the course without paperwork is November 17, 2021. However, withdrawing after September 16, 2021 will result in a “W” grade for the course (it won’t impact your GPA but will sit there).
- One must do their homework and pass the tests in order to pass this class. This is a merit based course.
- The CCSU Office of Student Accessibility Services must directly inform me of any required dispensations.

Legalese

Statement on Accessibility

Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) complies with the letter and spirit of the Federal laws, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act. CCSU Student Disability Services (SDS) staff approves and coordinates reasonable accommodations that provide equal access and educational equity to undergraduates and graduate students who have a documented disability. Through an individual interactive process, SDS arranges reasonable accommodations, auxiliary aids, and modifications to the learning environment and/or campus based on received documentation and functional limitations of the student.

While it is advisable that students arrange for accommodations prior to the start of the semester, a request and approval for accommodations can be made at any time during the semester. SDS notifies faculty of approved accommodations through an emailed accommodation letter, and students are copied and advised to discuss class accommodation arrangements with their instructors. SDS provides some auxiliary aids and a proctored testing center for accommodated exams. In some cases, SDS staff may contact and consult with faculty to discuss essential requirements of a course or program of study. SDS encourages faculty to also call when questions arise about accommodation arrangements.

If you are a student with a documented disability, and would like to request academic accommodations, you are encouraged to contact Student Disability Services (SDS) at 860-832-1952, or email disabilityservices@ccsu.edu. Please visit the SDS website at http://www.ccsu.edu/sds/ to download an Intake form and documentation requirements. Temporary impairments may also qualify for accommodations. Central Connecticut State University provides reasonable accommodations in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act for students with documented disabilities on an individualized basis.

Statement of Academic Dishonesty

Central Connecticut State University regards acts of academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on examinations, obtaining unfair advantage, and falsification of records and official documents) as serious offenses against the values of intellectual honesty. The University is committed to enforcing the CSU Policies on Academic Integrity and will pursue cases of academic dishonesty according to the Academic Integrity Procedures.

Statement on Discrimination and Harassment

Central Connecticut State University strives to maintain our campus as a place of work and study for faculty, staff, and students that is free of all forms of prohibited discrimination and harassment based upon age; ancestry, color; gender identity and expression; intellectual disability; learning disability; mental disorder; physical disability; marital status, national origin; race; religious creed; sex, (including pregnancy, transgender status, sexual harassment and sexual assault); sexual orientation; or any other status protected by federal or state laws. Any student who has concerns about should contact the Office for Equity & Inclusion (OEI) at 860-832-1652, Student Conduct (860-832-1601), or their faculty member. The OEI is located on the main floor of Davidson Hall, room 119.
